Cargill supports local programs to improve the quality of life:

- Since 2001, Cargill employees and local businesses in Colorado have contributed more than $175,000 to local United Ways.
- In recognition of their ongoing support to promote safety on the family farm, Cargill AgHorizons in Cheyenne Wells was named the Farm Safety 4 Just Kids Chapter of the Year for 2005. Cargill is a leading sponsor of Farm Safety 4 Just Kids, having contributed more than $1.2 million nationwide since 1992. Cargill employees and businesses participate in farm safety activities in several Colorado communities.
- Cargill's businesses in Denver have supported local public schools by contributing funds to help purchase textbooks, computers and audio-visual equipment.
- Cargill and the Sunrise and Evening Optimist Clubs in Fort Morgan joined together to raise funds for a soccer field and playground for the Fort Morgan City Park.
- Cargill Specialty Canola Oils in Fort Collins has joined with Habitat for Humanity to build homes for low-income families in 2000, 2003 and 2004.
- Cargill supports the Keystone Science Center in Keystone. Scholarships have been provided since 1993 for teachers in Cargill communities to attend a weeklong, environmental-education training program and bring back their new skills to their classrooms.
- Cargill has contributed to the Fort Morgan Police Department to help them purchase a police dog to increase safety for the community.
